

List of timed sensory triggers/ emotionally intense moments, for 12/11 relaxed performance

Times below are approximate, from the beginning of the show, in minutes:

4:00 Door slams open when Fred enters

13:00 Scrooge sees Jacob Marley's face appear through the door

14:00 Loud sounds, fog, and light changes before the appearance of Marley's ghost

15:00-17:00 Marley's ghost has an unusual voice (microphone effect), and there are cries and moaning

21:00 Appearance behind the bedcurtains of the Ghost of Christmas Past

27:00 When the actors sing "I saw three ships come sailing in," one of the actors plays a concertina

33:00 When Ghost of Christmas Past departs, there are chimes and bells

35:00 The Ghost of Christmas Present appears, with brightly colored lights, a booming laugh, and a ghostly voice

52:00 The children playing Ignorance and Want appear from behind the Ghost of Christmas Present

54:00 The Ghost of Christmas Future appears, all in black. He does not speak.

56:00-1:08:00 As the Ghost of Christmas Future takes Scrooge to see various scenes, the locations are separated by occasional lightning flashes and thunder

1:20:00 At the play's end, after "God Bless Us, Every One," the cast will stay on stage to sing a final Christmas carol, "We Wish You a Merry Christmas." The audience is welcome to sing along.